BRIGHTON MOUNTAIN WIND LIMITED

PHASE 1

Construction Summary for April-June 2026:

On-going construction activity continues throughout the site for the development of roads and turbine pads. Construction-related activity updates will be posted to Brightonwind.com.

Preparation groundwork for the future substation and terminal station will take place through April and May while foundation construction will begin in June.

Collector system layout and preliminary construction will begin in June.

As this construction work continues, there will be no public access to the site, including for recreational trail usage. For public safety, additional signage is being added throughout the project footprint and at site entrances to alert the public to active construction. All signage must be followed.
